BBQ King to Build in Downtown Huntley

Who's hungry?! The Village Board recently approved plans for the BBQ King Smokehouse restaurant in Huntley's downtown square. The new 12,161 square foot building will be constructed along Coral Street between the Legion Hall and Chamber of Commerce office. The restaurant space will be 7,973 square feet and two-stories tall, and will include a patio area for outdoor dining and wrought iron fencing. The building will also contain space for two additional commercial tenants, with each space consisting of 1,500 square feet (single story, with a faux second story façade). This will be owner Jason Szmurlo's second BBQ King Smokehouse restaurant; the first one is located in Woodstock. The project continues the Village's downtown revitalization efforts.

Construction will begin in September, with plans for a Spring opening.
